

95 Chancery Lane

Watts was appointed as cost consultant for the specification and management of repairs to this heritage building located in the heart of London.

Further to the challenging nature of the specialist restorations, the works needed to be co-ordinated around the needs of the in situ building tenants and the high pedestrian footfall.

The required works included repairs to all stone works and cladding, refurbishment and redecoration of all windows, external joinery and repairs to dilapidated roof areas.

The works were successfully procured and delivered with minimal disruption to the building tenants, ensuring this heritage asset retains its status within the surrounding area for many years to come.

CLIENT

Corob Holdings

LOCATION

London

EXPERTISE

Cost Planning

Procurement Advice

Financial Management

Risk Management